

My Favorite Word Glossary

These are all my favorite words. If you learn them, you'll do a spectacular job on my word games.

Almanac: A fun book filled with lots of facts, which I love on account of I don't like made-up stuff.

Barf: Something I do a lot because my stomach always hurts. Especially if I break rules.

Carbon Dioxide: The air people breathe out and plants breathe in. I'm not a fan of other people's carbon dioxide.

Eyeballs: Body parts that I do not like staring at me.

Fred: My very adorable, cute, spectacular, cuddly, squeaky pet guinea pig.

Junky cereal: The most delicious cereal on Planet Earth with lots of marshmallows and sugar.

Invisible: Something I would like to be so no eyeballs could stare at me.

Leppy: The name of the leprechaun that I'm going to catch. He's little like your thumb and he's going to teach me magic.

Marshmallows: The squishiest, softest, most delicious food on Planet Earth.

Parallelogram: Practically a college shape and I know all about it. It's like a rectangle, only it's squished and slanted.

Planet Earth: The big ball in outer space where we live.

Sparkly: Beautiful and shiny. My pet leprechaun is a fan of sparkly things.

Spectacular: The absolute, very best. Spectacular is the most spectacular describing word there is.

Superpowers: Something I'm working very hard to get on account of then I could turn invisible.

Tornado Twirls: The fastest spins on Planet Earth. I invented them. If you do them fast enough, you turn invisible.
